Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 19 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Patchy rain in west. Drier and brighter in east. Mild.

Today:
Outbreaks of rain across the north and west, turning heavy across the Northwest Highlands in the afternoon. Drier in the south and east with some bright spells. A mild day with brisk southwesterly winds.

Tonight:
Mainly dry in the south but outbreaks of rain in the north, heavy at times. This rain will push southwards overnight. A breezy and very mild night.

Saturday:
Rain will clear southwards through the day followed by sunshine and showers. Turning colder as strong and gusty winds become northerly.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cold on Sunday with bright spells and showers, these wintry over high ground. Mainly dry and a little milder on Monday and Tuesday but a few showers in the north.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.